Venice to Honor Officers, Gobs of California.

The new superdreadnaught California, which is now on a trial cruise in Pacific waters, will visit Venice Saturday and Sunday and make its first stop at a Southern California city, according to an announcement made yesterday by the Chamber of Commerce of the beach city. It is planned to throw open the town to the officers and men on the ship and a celebration will be held in honor of the thirty-one Venice men on board.

The signal honor of a first visit was bestowed upon Venice as it was in that city that the first men were recruited for the ship. Gov. Stephens opened the recruiting headquarters for the ship there some months ago and thirty-one men responded. Following the visit to that place, the ship will join the Pacific Fleet for a cruise.

A special program has been arranged for the officers and gobs. Shore leave will be granted the men from 4:30 p.m. Saturday until 1 a.m. Sunday and from 1:30 p.m. Sunday until [illegible]
