OK, Jason, so if we are not in crisis mode now then let's connect in a week or so when I have more time to be focused on your concerns. I look forward to working with all my ACWA friends again.

Thanks,
Scott

Hi Scott! Very problematic but Reclamation did a great job of handling this grenade. We can now work on it in an orderly process. Rather than in the one week before January 19th [NMFS original deadline for a decision], when we first learned of their plans to change the RPA.

NMFS is always full of surprises!
