catalogs from the FMSI; do you see that?

A Yeah, yeah.

Q Okay. Do you recall where you retrieved this information?

A No.

Q Did you discuss any of this historical information with anyone else at the FMSI when you were pulling together this history?

A I don't believe so. I was just trying to get a job out of the way. This guy asked me to write up a history and I said I am going to try to get this blessed thing done and get it out of here.

Q Okay.

A If there are things missing or stuff, that's the reason because I considered it a blessed nuisance.

Q This was part of your job duties at the FMSI?

A I was asked by an officer of the corporation to do this.

Q Okay. You indicated in connection with what I just asked you that associate members had rights to all technical information but did not have rights such as the right to vote or serve on committees. Were American Brakeblok, Johns-Manville, Thermoid then given the title or
