Friction materials manufacturers should support asbestos industry efforts to have them mitigated in hopes they at least aren't made more severe.

In the meantime, we should conform to the regulations to protect our employees and our customers and to avoid criticism and enforcement actions.

This is our exhibit numbered Dartez Number 30 dated February 16th, 1977, and, again, this is one of the Raymark documents. I believe, Mr. Williams --

MR. WILLIAMS: Yes, Your Honor, I have an objection. This is not a Ford document.

THE COURT: Overruled.

MR. IGNATOWSKI: It is from Mr. John Marsh to Mr. Scowcroft.

On several occasions the question has come up as to whether or not Raybestos-Manhattan can or should make statements to the effect that our products can be used safely if properly handled.

Unfortunately, we cannot use the word safe, simply because we do not know what a safe level of
