hundreds of times a day. Indeed in one factory there is a woman who for fifteen years has sewed only one seam. Her machine works so rapidly that she spends as much time inserting and withdrawing her work as in the actual sewing.—Westminster Gazette.

The First Christmas Gift Book.

In the General Advertiser of Jan. 6, 1750, appeared the earliest known announcement of a Christmas gift book, and in this case it was undeniably a gift book:

"Given Gratis. By J. Newberry, at the Bible and Sun, in St. Paul's Churchyard, over against the north door of the church (only paying one penny for the binding), Nurse Truelove's Christmas Box; or The Golden Plaything for Little Children—by which they may learn the letters as soon as they can speak; and know how to behave so as to make everybody love them; adorned with thirty cuts."—London Mail.
