US CARTRIDGES

For all makes of firearms

ALASKANS have learned that "U. S.". cartridges and Black Shells are absolutely reliable all the time.

Jams and misfires are bad enough on the rifle range. The sour-dough who siwashes his way through the country, prospecting the hills or panning the creeks, needs perfection in his ammunition.

Moose, Bear, Sheep or Ptarmigan—the success of his trip (sometimes his life as well), hangs on a handful of cartridges.

The Old Timers Carry "U. S."

High Scores or Scurrying Squirrels

CRACK shots the world over use the U. S. .22 N. R. A. for target shooting. World's record after world's record has been smashed with this ultra-accurate .22. It holds the Olympic championship.

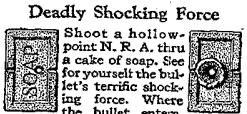
The N. R. A. for target work has a solid lead bullet. This same record-breaking long-rifle cartridge can also be had with hollow point bullet for hunting. The hollow-point N. R. A. is unusually effective on all animals up to the size of woodchucks, as well as on hawks, crows, grouse. Both styles fit any rifle taking .22 long or long-rifle cartridges.

Whether you are out for high scores or squirrels, records or rabbits, shoot the U. S. .22 N. R. A. The solid-bullet type—extremely accurate up to 200 yards—brings home the medals. The hollow-point style—the bullet of which travels at a 1050 feet per second clip and mushrooms on impact—brings home the bacon.

Game-Shooting Booklet

Bagging game with the .22, target shooting, laying out a range—these and other subjects are covered in a booklet, sent free. Write for booklet B.

Deadly Shocking Force



Shoot a hollow-point N. R. A. thru a cake of soap. See for yourself the bullet's terrific shocking force. Where the bullet enters, there will be a small hole. Where the bullet comes out, there will be a much larger hole—the end of a funnel-shaped path cut by the bullet as it mushrooms.
