doctor in practice uses, the causation by bacteria, virus.

That would quickly summarize it.

Q All right. If I could try and put it in my own terms so I can understand what you said, the average doctor out there will take one patient and examine him and he will diagnose, hopefully, what that patient has, right?

A Yes, sir.

Q What you are doing is look at groups of patients and trying to find out what causes disease in an individual patient; is that fair?

A Yes, sir, the industrial population.

Q Sir, have you been the recipient of any awards and recognitions of your practice in public health?

A Yes, sir.

Q Did you receive an award in the late 1980s from the Steelworkers of America?

A Yes, 1987, sir.

Q Were you recognized by international