Subject: RE: Part A Waste Acid Stack R22 breach

Hi [REDACTED],

As per our discussion, you may want to include the figure with the uncertainty included and resubmit the part A. You can combine this with the part B submission if you want, rather than do it separately.

If the figure, less uncertainty, is lower than the emission limits value, it is not a permit breach but known as "approach to limit" (not a permit term any longer).
