published in about 1982 or in 1982, correct?

A I don't know the date.

Q All right. It says Merewether's speculation in 1933.

Do you know who Merewether was?

A Yes.

Q Who was Merewether, sir?

A I think one of -- equivalent to an OSHA inspector.

Q In England?

A In England.

Q Merewether's speculation in 1933 that asbestosis would manifest itself in industries, including the manufacture of asbestos brake linings, where it was then unknown, was soon realized.

In the United States asbestosis was reported in a brake lining weaver in 1940, and the British Industrial Injuries Act of 1948 included asbestosis as a prescribed disease among brake liners.

They then go on to say, don't they, that there was a question as to whether brake workers would
