Subject PYDRAUL 625 - North American Airlines

Our meeting at North American concerning Pydraul 625 seemed to be quite satisfactory as far as the toxicity was concerned. They were especially impressed by the fact that on the basis of our data, the decomposition products of Cellulube were much more toxic. I left two reports with Mr. Elwood and told North American that these reports would be available to them.

There has, however, been a change in engineering directors so it looks like the whole job of selling Pydraul 625 will have to start over with the new chief. I will leave it to Mr. Elwood to comment on this development.
