Thank you for your letter of the 22nd May.

We have no serious objection if Bell fibre bags display a health warning label. There is likely to be some slight inconvenience in that our other fibre bags will not be similarly marked and operatives may seek to make some capital of this. For this reason we would like as much advance notice as possible of when we may expect first supplies so marked.

I suspect that there may be slightly more difficulty with overseas Ferodo companies, where to date the factory workers have shown less interest in the asbestos health problem. Health warning labels are likely to make this a live issue. Advance warning of when labelled bags may be expected to arrive is very important.
