BOB COBBILDICK

NEW YORK (INS)—No football coach in history ever had to do what Gen. Curt Lemay has done the past five years—keep a team in peak form for a game scheduled for the next day which is constantly being postponed.

But every time this big game is postponed, the spirit of even the most eager of the beavers are minded to droop or collect rust. A condition like that cannot be tolerated in SAC. The security of the free world depends more upon the readiness of SAC than on any other tool in the arsenal of democracy.

Lemay, a soft-spoken man from Ohio who can be as tough as an angry bear if a man does not play square with him, is a man who has won for himself a brand of loyalty among his men that is hard to put into words. Every man who works for him knows that Lemay, come the big game, will be in the first plane. He has devised a rigorous and constant training program that tests every man in his outfit every day in a way in which he would test himself.

There are no "brothers" on Lemay's mythical schedule. There is only one big game, and he might be called upon to send his team into the air against the big opponent on a moment's notice.

Key officers and crewmen in SAC carry sidearms for a very simple reason. If Russia started a shooting war tomorrow the very first targets of her host of saboteurs in this country unquestionably would be the B-36s, B-47s and B-52s which make up the bulk of SAC's ability to respond with a horrendous Sunday punch.

When you realize that one SAC bomber can now deliver a weight comparable to that of literally hundreds of B-17s and B-24s of World War II vintage, common sense requires that those bombers and men who have been trained at great cost to find the targets be protected.

A crewman who truly distinguishes himself on SAC's peacetime missions is eligible for spot promotion. Often, entire crews are jumped a grade. SAC has more lieutenant colonels and majors piloting its big bombers than it has captains. But if a crew grows fat or slate, or even one member of it goofs off, the entire team can be lowered one rank.

Their pay, brand of quarters, etc., etc., falls off if they don't come up with redeeming performances within the following 30 days.

Keeps the boys alive and ready.

One sample of how SAC, and its incredible refueling-in-the-air program, has shrunken the world: Swarms of B-36s recently flew non-stop across the Pacific and droned over some of our less certain friends on that way. Flights of B-47s regularly cross the Atlantic in four hours. Squadrons of F-84s, SAC's A-bomb carrying Republic aviation fighter, have flown non-stop from Georgia to North Africa, thanks to refueling at sea. A group of B-36s, ordered to fly to Dayton, O., non-stop from Japan, and drum over the field there at the same time a group of B-47s flew in from Britain, did so within the minute of the fly-by of the B-47s.

You can sleep better tonight because Coach Lemay has found a way to keep his boys perpetually primed for the big game.

British Consider Allowing Ships to Be Built for Russia

LONDON, (INS) —Urgent consideration is being given by the British government to action to enable British shipyards to build vessels for Russia.

Hector Hughes, labor M. P., was given that information in written answer to a question he had asked in the House of Commons.

Hughes had charged that Russian officials had tried to place orders with British shipyards but difficulties had been put in their way by the American Battle Act. That act cuts off American aid to any country sending war potential materials to Communist countries.

Hughes received a letter from James Purdon Lewes Thomas, Civil Lord of the Admiralty, confirming that the government was considering whether to allow ships to be sold to Russia.

The letter also stated that the Russian trade delegation in Britain recently inquired about the possibility of building a number of merchant ships for Russia. No precise number was named, the letter said, but in general the types of ships in question were trawlers, whaling ships and dry cargo ships.

Thomas said the trade delegation had approached a number of British firms about the construction of certain of these types of ships.

His letter declared that "urgent consideration" is being given by the ministers concerned to the question of the grant of licenses to build the ships for Russia and firms will be given an answer soon.

"I can assure you," the letter said, "that the government fully recognize the importance both of maintaining employment in the shipyards and of increasing international trade, but in considering the export of shipping a number of other matters have to be taken into account, including strategic considerations.

"In this connection I ought, perhaps, to mention that control over the export of strategic goods was first introduced in 1949 in the interest of our own security."

Royal Family Stands Firm On Romance

LONDON, (INS)—London's knowledgeable West End claimed today that RAF Group Captain Peter Townsend had at least one date while he was in the country recently, and that the girl was very pretty.

She was not Princess Margaret.

A friend of the royal family cited the report today as further evidence that the romance between the handsome war hero and the little princess no longer is a threat to Queen Elizabeth's peace of mind.

But he added that the situation still is being watched with interest—if no longer with anxiety — by palace quarters.

Townsend, who came over from Brussels for a conference of air attaches and a short holiday, slipped out of the country quietly some days ago to return to his post.

According to well-informed circles, he did not communicate with Princess Margaret even by telephone while he was here and did not speak to any other member of the royal family.

He is scrupulously observing a promise these circles believe he made, to do nothing that would raise another flurry of world speculation.

For the same reason, Queen Elizabeth probably scrapped a reported intention to summon Townsend to Balmoral during his visit and discuss his future with him. It is widely believed in court circles that he will some day be recalled to the royal service.

Townsend is reported to have had this assurance when he resigned as deputy master of the queen's household to become air attache in the British embassy in Brussels, after the princess' affection for him became public property.

Shoplifter Caught With Her Mink Down

CHICAGO, (INS) — A 58-year-old women was held today on suspicion of shoplifting after she was found in a Loop store with a mink cape and a mink coat worth a total of $4,800.

She had stuffed them in a pair of oversized bloomers.

MADRID (INS)—A Nicaraguan coffee planter denies flatly that state secret police boss rumored to be of hiding in the West.

Reached by telephone yesterday at Malaga in southern Spain, Fabio Gallo denounced as "completely phony" stories printed last week in a Madrid newspaper and the Paris Le Monde.

The Spanish Paper, ABC said it had been told that a man who may have been Bernia parachuted into Spain. Le Monde reported that Gallo actually spoke to Bernia in a village near Malaga.

The American embassy in Madrid, intrigued by the reports, sent attache Don Walther to Malaga last week to see the Nicaraguan. Walther refused to comment on the interview but Gallo declared:

"He (Walther) insisted I tell him where Bernia was hidden. When I told him I knew nothing about Bernia, he threatened to turn me over to the Spanish police. I told him I was not afraid of the police and that he could go to hell."

The European newspaper accounts followed stories in the San Diego Union which said that a man claiming to be Bernia, who was purged last July as a Soviet traitor, had escaped and was hoping to go to the United States.

KEVADA CITY (INS) — Two in her written statement State sought to wreak revenge on Shea for having said she had dropped out of sight in Chester during the approximate time of the Guard Young massacre.

Plumas County District Attorney John F. Keane and Sheriff Melvin Schoeler were scheduled to leave Quincy for Nevada City today to join agents Horton and Martino in probing Miss Henson and subjecting the woman to further questioning.

The Henson woman's statement was regarded by state and local police officers as "well covered" in part. She absolved herself of direct complicity in the quadruple murder and involved Shea by claiming he got 10 per cent of the loot of the robbery proceeds for "putting the finger" on Young.

She was jailed at Quincy as Miss Henson's statement was made public in Nevada City where she is under indictment on another murder charge.

Authorities expressed belief that Miss Henson may have

Agents Kenneth Horton and Joseph Martino left Quincy last night after relaying Larry Shea, Chester housepainter, from the Plumas county jail.

Shea, named by Miss Henson as the 19 per cent fingerman in the brutal murders of grocery Guard Young and three children near Chester last Oct. 10, went immediately into hiding.

His release was the first indication that authorities do not consider Miss Henson's confession entirely truthful. The red haired Auburn cocktail waitress declared

Rinso Guide to Soaps and Detergents

These helpful directions explain for the first time which to use for every job. Presented by Rinso, the only brand to offer you both—famous Rinso Soap and sensational new Rinso Detergent.

BLANKETS: Use the Soap
Blankets shouldn't stay in your washer more than a minute! Agitation while wet shrinks them. Rinso Soap removes a lot of dirt fast—and leaves your blankets soft and fluffy! Yet you now pay about 5¢ less for it than for detergents.

CURTAINS: Use either
As long as you make plenty of suds, either product will do a beautiful job of washing your curtains. Both Rinso Soap and Rinso Detergent get curtains dazzling white—for an interesting reason. Both Rinsos contain SOLIUM.

DIAPERS: Use the Soap
One sure way to be careful of baby's tender skin is to use only soap for washing diapers and all baby clothes. The mild, gentle soap in Rinso Soap leaves diapers extra soft and non-irritating. The SOLIUM leaves them white as snow!

DISHES, GLASSWARE: Use Detergent
Everybody knows detergents do a better job on your dishes than soap. But this new Rinso Detergent does even more—it washes up to twice as many dishes as the most popular detergent, and is wonderfully gentle to your hands.

DRESSES: Use either
Your white dresses look whiter than new, print dresses brighter than new, washed in Rinso Soap or Rinso Detergent—thanks to the SOLIUM. Rinso's rich suds remove dirt so efficiently that most stains need hardly any pre-scrubbing.

LINOLEUM: Use the Detergent
If the linoleum is really dirty, use a detergent to get it clean before you wax. Rinso Detergent suds are particularly good for removing greasy or sticky stains from your kitchen linoleum. Use as little water as possible.

WORK CLOTHES: Use either
Choose either Rinso for doing work clothes. Rinso Detergent is exceptionally good in hard water, and you don't have to rinse unless you want to. Rinso Soap gets out slightly more dirt, and you now pay about 5¢ less for the Soap.

SHIRTS: Use either
Your husband's shirts will turn out gloriously clean and white, washed with Rinso Soap or new Rinso Detergent. We guarantee he'll be delighted. The SOLIUM in these two extraordinary Rinsos will give him the whitest shirts ever.

SYNTHETIC FABRICS: Use either
You can safely wash almost any fabric in the friendly suds of Rinso Soap or Rinso Detergent. Not only your cottons, but also the new synthetic fabrics. They'll all be perfectly at home in gentle, thorough-cleansing Rinso.

TOWELS: Use either
Your white towels will be whiter than new—and wonderfully fluffy—if you wash them in either the Soap or the Detergent. Why? Because both Rinsos are perfect beavers for getting out dirt. What's more, both Rinsos contain SOLIUM.

WOOL SWEATERS & SOCKS: Use Soap
If you want your wool sweaters and socks to stay soft, wash them in soap suds. Home economists will tell you that washing with Rinso Soap removes less of the natural oil from the wool, and this helps keep it soft and fluffy.

SHEETS: Use either
The truth is that either the Soap or the Detergent will do your sheets to perfection. Both Rinsos contain SOLIUM, to leave your sheets white as can be. And both leave sheets so soft and smooth, you only have to iron the top quarter.

SAVE 5¢ ON SOAP!
Your grocer now has Rinso Soap on sale at special low prices. You save more than ever!
