THE COURT: I thought it might be, so that is why I suggested it, sir.

THE WITNESS: Thank you.

TEH COURT: Go ahead, Mr. Smith.

MR. SMITH: May I approach?

THE COURT: Yes.

BY MR. SMITH:

Q Plaintiff's Ford Exhibit 47, if you could identify this for us, please.

(Whereupon, document tendered to witness.)

A Well, it says brake lining dust removal survey from 1973, and the contact persons in here include a number of brake personnel that I am familiar with.

Q What was the purpose of that survey, if you know?

A That was one which I believe came from a corporate headquarters. This came from Russ Quarles who is involved in the -- who was in charge of toxicology or something like that, responsible for the garages. And at that time there was agreement to
