PCB

Q: Does Monsanto make "greyboard"?

A: No.

Q: Is Monsanto the only U.S. producer of PCB?

A: Yes.

Q: I understand Monsanto has restricted sales.

A: (I gave him a brief description of open and closed systems and how we have restricted sales.)

Q: Has Monsanto made any production or sales figures public?

A: No, although we have offered this information to government agencies on a confidential basis.

Q: Has Monsanto done any toxicity studies?

A: Yes, we have had a two-year study done by an independent laboratory and their results are soon to be published.

Q: Are there any legal restrictions at the present time on the uses of PCB?

A: As far as we know, there are no legal restrictions. Of course, Monsanto does have its own voluntary restrictions on this product.
