CALL FROM: Dr. J. R. Allen
University of Wisconsin
(608)263-3524

Dr. Allen called about Dibenzylfurans and Dioxins in Chlorinated Biphenyls as a result of his reading the Risebrough paper. He is concerned about levels of these compounds in the Aroclors which he is using for his U. of Wisconsin feeding studies since he is unclear as to potential interferences in results which can be ascribed to PCB per se or contaminants in PCB.

He asked if we could check samples to be used in his studies to determine positively if contaminants were or were not present in those specific samples. I said that I did not believe our analytical techniques were fully developed to the stage where we were confident that we could properly consider ourselves able to meet his need. I told Dr. Allen that we would discuss his request and call him next week.
