It is on Owens-Corning letterhead dated January 30, 1940.

THE COURT: It will be admitted into evidence.

MR. SMITH: Thank you, Your Honor.

(Whereupon, Plaintiffs' Exhibit Number 591 was received into evidence.)

MR. SMITH: Again, Mr. Staelin, we just heard about, the corporate secretary, with a handwritten HB note.

Subject, Mr. Marshall's memorandum on itch propaganda. The proposed fiberglass standards sheet on proper methods of handling fiberglass insulation will, in effect, be a part of a complete manual on all forms of fiberglass because it will be a part of fiberglass standards.

The proposed sheet has to do with the handling of fiberglass thermal insulation. This represents our major market and our major problem.

In my opinion, it would be much more practical to have two instead of one because the story
