By Valerian Rybar, A.I.D.

1. A rectangular coffee table can be transferred from the living room to the bedroom and used at the foot of a bed to hold magazines, books, paraphernalia.

2. Paint the frame of an old dresser white and each drawer a different color. Use it to teach a child to be neat. A child can be taught to put clothes away according to drawer color. For example, socks go in the blue drawer, shirts in the red drawer.

3. Use extra wallpaper to cover books, line breakfront shelves, cabinets or bookcases.

4. To create an attractive recreation or family room with little money, gather odd pieces of furniture and paint them all one color. Select a fabric that plays up the color, and make curtains, slipcovers or pillows.
