"Mark them as being in evidence," Mullen ruled.

The defendants, both 21 and both from Waltham, Mass., are accused of kidnaping and robbing John T. Degnan, 27, of Plandome, N. Y. He escaped after being driven to New York.

Both sides rested their cases after Dobick's dramatic testimony.

Dobick's home telephone was answered by his partner last night.

"Mr. Bobick is in repose," he announced.

Camera Shows X-2 Pilot Took Buffeting

EDWARDS AFB (AP)—A camera mounted in the cockpit of the Bell X-2 rocket plane shows that Capt. Milburn G. Apt received a violent buffeting before he was killed in the crash of the experimental plane while flying at a record speed of 2,200 m.p.h.

Photographs of the last moments of flight of the needle-nosed craft that holds the world's speed and altitude records were released yesterday by the air force.

They show that Apt, who was making his first flight in the plane, was thrown about the cockpit when he went into a turn after pushing the X-2 to its record speed.

The film shows Apt reaching for the handle to detach the cockpit capsule from the rest of the plane. He was unable to eject himself from the cockpit, however, and it smashed to earth with him inside.
