I understand the operating committee discussed our position on PCB samples after phase-out on 10/31/77. Marketing has no interest in sending out free samples even now. We do realize, however, there are over-riding reasons why samples need to be supplied for research programs and as analytical standards. [redacted] possibly we can supply a few drums of product free to reagent supply houses who currently offer PCBs for the purposes described. Can I suggest you send your recommendation to David Wood who can then handle any orders we need to fill.

Thank you.

maybe better approach
is to have drums with FDA/OSHA/EPA.
