Approved for 24 Credit Hours in Category I of the AMA's Physician's Recognition Award and 24 Elective Hours by the American Academy of Family Physicians applied for

OBJECTIVES OF THE COURSE

The change of concept from the mere detection and treatment of disease to the prevention of any adverse effect on workers requires that even the "first line" physician must practice more than physical examinations and emergency treatment of injuries. Physicians affiliated with industry must now be prepared, and competent, to counsel employees and to advise and consult with management. They will require a familiarity with labor relations and the economic aspects of absenteeism, labor turnover, and the various insurance programs. This course will offer instruction in these and related areas.

CREDIT

As an organization accredited for Continuing Medical Education, the University of Pittsburgh School of Medicine certifies that this continuing medical education offering meets the criteria for 24 Credit Hours in Category I of the Physician's Recognition Award of the American Medical Association. Twenty-four Elective Hours by the American Academy of Family Physicians has been applied for. Certificates of attendance will be awarded.
