of Florence, has taken over this part-time position. Dr. Clive Higgins, formerly of the Construction Division, has now joined us at our Camden plant.

We are still working to organize a most interesting medical program for our May 1969 meeting. The last day of the meeting, Friday, will be held at the Haskell Laboratory. The morning will be devoted to the presentation of timely and important papers by employees of the Haskell Laboratory staff. The doctors will be free in the afternoon to visit through the Haskell Laboratory, or take in some of the local points of interest. A list of these will be sent to you later.

Again my best wishes to each of you.
