Because of the larger number of people involved, the many activities underway and the rapid pace we must maintain to achieve challenging target dates, it has been difficult to properly communicate to all concerned the status of our programs related to the PCB problem.

In an effort to diminish this apparent communications gap, I will issue a monthly summary status report for all PCB activity. I plan to keep the report as brief as possible without diminishing its usefulness.

To effectively report the performance of each of your functions, I will need from each of you a very brief summary, primarily oriented to reporting status toward objectives and actions to correct deviations from target.

Please time your summary so that it reaches my desk on the last working day of the month.
