Dear Dr. Kelly:

Yesterday I received a request for toxicity data on Therminol FR from the Atlantic Cement Company at Ravena, New York.

According to Fred Staub at Atlantic, one of their workers claims to have inhaled Therminol FR vapors and became sick. Fred called to obtain toxicity data which I removed from our engineering data book (customer publication) and mailed to him. Fred was not overly concerned about the incident and feels it may be union motivated; however, Cumming Paton thought you should be advised of this development.

If you wish to reach Atlantic Cement directly for more information, please contact:

Please call me if I can be of additional help.
