FOUNDED?

Los Angeles Uncertain Of Birthday

LOS ANGELES — The exact date of the founding of Los Angeles is uncertain, but most historians agree it probably was September 4, 1781, when a small band of Spanish soldiers, Franciscan friars and 11 families marched from Mission San Gabriel to found a new settlement nine miles away. The group was headed by Don Felipe de Neve, governor of the Province of California, acting on behalf of King Carlos III of Spain.
