THE PAINT GOES IN

The Weather Stays Out

The illustration above shows a greatly magnified section of painted wood. The paint penetrates deeply into the grain of the wood with thousands of deep rooted projections, giving the paint surface "tooth" for complete adherence. With this protection weather is kept out for years and the wood presents a fine surface for repainting.

PRIME-ALL House Paint Primer

A priming coat for new or old work! It is unusually waterproof, dries hard, and eliminates blistering, peeling, and checking of succeeding coats. Finishing coats of paint will spread farther . . . will have more body and fullness to their film when used over this perfect primer. A first coat of Prime-All followed with a second coat of Royal Machine

Mixed Liquid Paint makes possible successful two-coat painting.

GOOD PAINT is Always a Good Investment!

Royal Paint is TESTED for all Weather Conditions

Severe laboratory and weather- exposure tests prove this is the ideal paint for all outside painting. It brushes evenly and covers solidly. The film adheres tightly to the surface. When dry, it forms a tough elastic coat of armor that successfully withstands rain, dust, snow and hot sun for years.

Royal Paint is ECONOMICAL

The greatest cost of painting is not the cost of the material but that of labor to apply it. Any saving effected by buying cheap paint is lost by its short coverage and inefficient work. Cheap paint peels and blisters—your home needs repainting sooner, thus causing an additional burden of expense. When the cost of application far outweighs the cost of the paint, be sure to get the best paint for a quality job. It's economical—lasts long!

Color Harmony Guide

The chart at the right is a quick reference guide to the selection of pleasing and harmonious combinations of House Paint Colors. For example, after selecting Bluebell Blue and Light Buff for your home color scheme, refer to the color harmony chart to check the authenticity of the selection. Locate Bluebell Blue in the left hand column, then move across fifteen squares to the square directly below Light Buff in the top list of color names. The letter E in that square indicates an excellent combination of colors. If the letter S had appeared in the space a satisfactory combination of colors would have been indicated, but one not so perfect as represented by the letter E. The letter P in the square would have indicated a combination that should never be used.
