ASTROSCOPE

By Sydney Omarr

Sun in Aries, Moon in Leo gives us a fiery motive, one with compelling, hypnotic eyes, one who is sensual, impulsive, daring, theatrical, inventive and spoiled by members of the opposite sex. This Sun-Moon combination arouses envy in some, ire in others, admiration in still others—the native often acts first, thinks later, has immense ego and an individual style. If you know such a person, flatter but don't patronize. And don't look too deeply into those eyes—unless you want to become under a spell!

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Involvement into a kind of mystery is indicated. You're called upon to be discreet. Financial obligations are in picture, featuring partner or mate. Finish project. Let go of ogle—or person. Don't attempt to hang on to past. A tax situation can be resolved.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Accent on public relations, responses, partnerships, legal formalities—and marriage. Highlight originality, creativity—and a keen sense of value of waiting, observing. Others may be sending signals. Detect them and act accordingly.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Go slow. Listen and learn. Obtain hint from Taurus message. Deal with Aquarian. One who aided or taught you in past may make reappearance. Health, employment, basic services could be highlighted. Gain indicated by following through on hunch.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Creativity, emotional response, dealings with young persons are highlighted. Social activity accelerates. Be ready for exciting contacts, challenges. Spotlight on change, travel, variety, ability to get at reasons why certain events have occurred.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Accent on specifics, books, details, homework. You may feel as if you are painted into corner. That condition is temporary. Take advantage of respite to build on more solid base. Aquarius, Taurus and another Leo could be involved.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Emphasis on ideas, relatives, messages and visits. Highlight [illegible]. Don't feel there's only one way—or that you are trapped. Humor and charm enable you to work out most things, also to gain your way to definite advantage. Gemini, Sagittarius could figure prominently.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Money, costs, bargains, reviews and appraisals could command spotlight. Fix things at home, including safety hazards. Collect and pay. Consolidate. Refuse to give up something of value for nothing. You have right to be proud of possessions.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Lunar cycle is high; take initiative. Emphasize personality, dynamic approach. Be a self-starter. Make presence felt. Refuse to take back seat. Imprint needs and personality. Trust hunch. Rely on personal judgment. Circumstances will favor your efforts.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Check behind the scenes. Examine doubts, fears. Your position is stronger than might be imagined. Those who threaten or cajole are jealous and want to test your reactions. One in position of authority has confidence in you and will show it.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Accent on friendships, romantic concerns, rewards due from professional endeavors. You will successfully conclude project. At very least, you learn [illegible]—and you per[illegible]

N.Y. to Air PCP Impact On Public Health

NEW YORK (AP) — New York Atty. Gen. Louis J. Lefkowitz said Sunday he will hold a public hearing Dec. 12 on what he called "serious health and environmental hazards" linked with PCB or polychlorinated biphenyls.

PCBs are a group of toxic liquid chemicals used in electrical devices and paper products. Some scientists believe they produce, or tend to produce, cancer.

The Federal Food and Drug Administration maintains a five parts per million tolerance limit for PCBs in food. Levels over 500 parts per million have been found by state scientists in fish caught in the Hudson River.

Lefkowitz said the hearing will help determine whether protective legislation is needed to control use and disposal of PCB's. He said the state Conservation Department was investigating discharge of PCBs into the Hudson River by the General Electric Co. plant at Fort Edward.

The hearing will be held at 10 a.m. in Room 47-70 of No. 2 World Trade Center.
