Dear Elmer:

In my letter of August 19, 1955 to Dr. Hodge, in my haste, I inadvertently used the word "same" in the second paragraph. This should have been "somewhat similar". I believe I should inform Harold of this correction, however, I should appreciate your opinion before doing so.

Incidentally, will you send me a copy of your Pydraul bulletin.

We are quite interested in you studies on tertiary-butyl-amine and isocyanate.

I had been jammed with visitors since returning home from a business trip the latter part of last week, but I hope to give you some more explicit comments in regard to these two subjects in the very near future.

Sincerely yours,

JFT:rb
