As chairman of the steering committee I am well aware of the responsibility to get on with the arduous job of establishing badly needed acceptable dry land fills for burial of askarel impregnated solid scrap materials.

I have had opportunity to discuss this with Mr. Jennings of the EPA. His final recommendation was that we should contact a Mr. Charles Gregg at the Office of Toxic Substances in Washington, D.C. at 202-755-0577. He felt that these people rather than EPA would better serve our purposes. Evidently Mr. Gregg is in a position to solicit aid on our project from various governmental agencies. He felt that we need to pursue this first over the phone and then if necessary by going to Washington. Please give me your thoughts.
