Monterey Planners

Approve Bowling Alley

The Monterey City Planning Commission last night granted permission for a 24-lane bowling alley on Fremont street and Dela Vina.

A trailer court now stands on the site.

Use permits to allow the construction were granted to Byron G. Niel, land owner. The bowling alley will be operated by F. Alden Garoutte of Carmel.

Limits

The planners directed the developers to limit access onto Dela Vina to one point and to save as many oak trees as possible. The main access to the property will be on Fremont.

The site is in proximity to the highly-successful Cypress Bowl, opened last year, located across Fremont at the corner of Casanova.

In other matters last night, the commission gave Planning Director Gordon Hall authority to study possible sub-dividing of the city's old corporation yards on Via Paraiso.

Hall wants to establish a four-acre subdivision in the 10-acre tract with six acres in the center reserved for a park. Eighteen lots could be realized, he said, and these could be sold by the city to highest bidders.

The planners recommended that the council approve an emergency sign control ordinance which would give the architectural control board broader discretionary authority over roof signs and moving signs. It also would limit the "name" sizes of places of business to 15 per cent of the size of the largest side of the building.

Beach Zoning

The request of Elizabeth Kirby, Frank Work and Del Monte Properties Co. for rezoning of privately-owned portions of Monterey beach was continued until May 12. The applicants are having a study made of beach erosion.

A use permit was granted to allow a public garage at Scott and Tyler streets. The garage would be located in an existing building and would not affect the urban renewal program.

The meeting lasted three hours and 50 minutes.

All commissioners were present.
