Q Okay. When you worked at Haskins and Sells, they were CPA's; correct?

A Correct.

Q Did you have any FMSI members as clients there?

A No. I think Bendix might have been, but I -- I wasn't in that part. I completely divorced from anything that had to do with the FMSI.

Q What were the circumstances that caused you to go from Bendix to Haskins and Cells in approximately 1965?

A Because I decided I wanted to become a CPA and give up engineering.

Q Did you become a CPA?

A Yes.

Q What year was that, Mr. Drislane?

A Whenever I passed the final exams, whenever -- about 19- -- 1966, maybe, around there.

Q Thank you. Were you employed in any other positions before joining the FMSI in approximately October 1970?

A Yes. Between the time I left Bendix and the time I went to Haskins and Sells, I worked with a small accounting firm in the Albany area.

Q Other than that, any other positions?
