A I relied on my own understanding.

Q When it came to minutes of the Asbestos Study Committee who did you disseminate those minutes to?

A Well, legal counsel always got a copy and then all the members of that committee got a copy and I guess that's about it.

Q Were you ever instructed not to send minutes of the Asbestos Study Committee to any particular type of member?

A No.

Q Was it your practice that if any member asked for a copy of any minutes of any committee, including the Asbestos Study Committee, you were free to provide them copies?

A I felt so, yes.

Q Did you ever have any occasion to report in any of the minutes -- I have reviewed several of them -- the amount of activity in the secretary position similar to what Miss Duschek reports?

A No. I thought that was a waste of time.

Q Mr. Drislane, let me ask you, did the Friction Material Standard Institute ever propose any so-called standards regarding asbestos?
