FOR RELEASE: P.M., WEDNESDAY, APRIL 28, 1976

Cincinnati, April 28--Merle Bundy, M.D., Pittsburgh, has been awarded the 1976 Meritorious Service Award of the American Occupational Medical Association, an international organization of physicians who provide health care for the employees of private enterprises, governmental services, and other institutions. Presentation of the citation was made to Dr. Bundy today at the Association's 61st annual meeting being held this week at the Cincinnati Convention Center. George E. Spencer, M.D., Association President, read from the citation "this award reflects your peers' appreciation and gratitude for your many years of leadership and service in the field of occupational medicine."

Dr. Bundy, who is Director-Industrial Medicine for United States Steel Corporation, also holds an appointment as Clinical Assistant Professor of Occupational Medicine at the University of Pittsburgh Graduate School of Public Health. He received his medical degree from Indiana University School of Medicine in 1942, and a Master of Public Health degree from the University of Michigan in 1946. He was Chief of Tuberculosis Control for the Indiana State Board of Health for several years before going to Pittsburgh in 1951 as Chief, Tuberculosis Control and Medical Service for the Pittsburgh Department of Health. From 1954 to 1958 before joining U.S. Steel, he was Pittsburgh Works Physician for the Jones Laughlin Steel Corporation.
