George H. Riley, Safety Supervisor
National Tube Company
Lorain, Ohio

Dear Mr. Riley:

In accordance with our conversation of April 20, I am enclosing two copies of the brochure which the Central Ohio Chapter of the American Society of Safety Engineers used in connection with the Safety School held the first part of this year.

Our experience has been that the students at this school obtained a basic knowledge of industrial safety. The Executive Committee of the Chapter has authorized the writer to make plans for another session of the school next year at approximately the same time. It is felt that there will be no difficulty in obtaining thirty or thirty-five students as the word has gotten around that the school was successful in its first attempt. We firmly believe that next year the school will be more valuable to the students than it was this time.

If the writer can assist you in any way in setting up a curriculum for a similar school, kindly let me know.

Very truly yours,

Lester M. Merritt,
Industrial Hygiene Engineer.
