Mr. Garrity stressed that flowers should "talk for you" —say what you want them to say be it formal or informal. In not to fear cutting stems too short to get a right effect. From a box of miscellaneous flowers he created decorations as a hostess might preceding a party.

He also displayed an unusual arrangement in an amber glass shallow bowl with a glass fishing float of the same color in the center. Placed near the rim was a quarter moon of dark yellow daffodils.

Mr. Garrity has been a Palo Alto resident for the past six years.

Mrs. Harold Rausch and Mrs. E. C. Brandeberry poured for the coffee hour preceding the program.

AWVS to sponsor second style show tomorrow evening

The Palo Alto unit of the American Women's Voluntary Service will sponsor its second in a series of monthly fashion shows tomorrow at 8 p.m. at Rickey's.

Mrs. David Massey, general chairman and a model, has announced the following models:

Mrs. Frank Rohner, Mrs. Herb Nurmi, Mrs. W. W. Sawdon, Mrs. William Squires, Mrs. Robert Hadeler, Mrs. Edward Lee, Mrs. Joy Smith, Mrs. Guye Troute, Joan Fisher, and Joan Benny.

Assisting Mrs. Massey will be Mrs. Robert S. Jones, Mrs. James W. McIver, Mrs. F. P. Hunchar, and Mrs. Burt C. Kendall.

Hospital auxiliary to meet Friday noon

The Sequoia Hospital Medical Auxiliary will meet tomorrow for a 12:30 p.m. luncheon at Ramor Oaks. All wives of physicians and dentists on the staff of Sequoia Hospital are invited to attend.

Mrs. Jackson Flanders of Menlo Park is president of the group.

The auxiliary recently purchased two incubators for the use of the hospital with proceeds from the gift shop, which the group has operated at the hospital since December 1950.

Reservations may be made with Mrs. William Van Deventer, EMerson 8-0168.
