As a result of our conversation of this week about aroclor cars, I have collected a list of all cars now in this service. If this list is correct, we have 34 new cars, put into service in 1966, and 25 older cars which were then in service or have been put in service since then.

All of these cars are reserved for aroclor service only, and we do not load out any other product. Cars are switched from say the Inerteens to 1242, however, from time to time. Compatability determines need for washing between shipments.

We are presently revaluating the value and need for each of these cars along with condition of the car. Obviously your recent memo plus the findings on the last car returned from our customer has provoked this action. We at W.G.K. do not feel we are as bad as it sometimes appears, and our quality record of this year does not bear out anything bordering on inattention or carelessness.

I have attached the car list so you will have a better understanding of the car situation since I felt after our conversation that you were not aware that we still had old cars in our fleet.
