LIGIBLE FOR ; TRAINING

ange basis to provide competent officers for the Navy, Com. B. P. Flood said.

V-1 PROGRAM

The V-1 program is designed for reshmen and sophomores in accredited colleges. They may elect aviation, deck or engineering duty.

Those who choose aviation, Com. Flood said, are sent into training after completing two years of college work. Those in the other classifications complete their college training before going to midshipman schools and reporting for active duty.

The V-7 program, Com. Flood said, s open to college juniors and seniors and to graduates under 28. A large class is now open and will begin training about January 1.

COURSES FOR CANDIDATES

Regular courses to fit the naval candidate for a profession are not interrupted by enlistment in the college V-1 or V-7 program. The Navy asks only that applicants take a year of college mathematics and college physics plus a course in trigonometry. Qualifying examinations are given V-1 candidates after they have completed a year and a half of school.

In colleges where ROTC training is compulsory students are now given a chance to designate their preference for service with the Navy, the Army or the Marine Corps. Under the joint college program agreement has been signed by the secretaries of the Navy and of war which guarantees the student that he may elect his branch of the service and he will not be ordered to duty under the jurisdiction of any other branch once he has indicated that preference on a form provided at these schools.

Defense Rehearsals Every Two Weeks

ALAMEDA, Oct. 24. — Alameda will hold dress rehearsals of a possible Jap bombing every two weeks, to be ready, just in case.

Lloyd Wendland, chief air raid warden, made this announcement after studying results of the incident tests held here Wednesday night. Wendland said the response of Alameda Civilian Defense enrollees was remarkably good when 40 separate incidents were simulated in order to give the volunteers practical experience. Special praise was given the medical and decontamination squads and the Boy Scouts, who performed messenger service.

A defense "clinic" at which the incidents and the reaction to them by the workers will be discussed, will be held after each try-out.

Vacuum Cleaner Sales Prohibited

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24.—(U.P.)—The War Production Board today prohibited until next January 1 all sales of new domestic vacuum cleaners to anyone except the Army, Navy, lend-lease, or holders of Board of Economic Warfare export licenses.

The action was described as "a temporary measure, pending determination of supplies of vacuum cleaners in the hands of manufacturers," who must file inventory reports with WPB by November 9.

Vacuum cleaner production was stopped April 30.

New Regulations In Rent-Control

Landlord Must Set Forth Reason for Eviction of Tenants

Under new rent-control regulations eviction notices, including those already issued, will be invalid unless the landlord notifies both tenant and rent-control authorities in writing of the specific grounds on which eviction is sought.

The clarification came from William Lockhart, regional rent attorney for the Office of Price Administration.

In cases where the landlord's 30-day notice to vacate does not include this information the notice will be ruled invalid and the landlord will be required to serve a new 30-day notice listing the reason.

The notice to the area rent-control office must be submitted within 24 hours after notification to the tenant. Failure to observe this regulation also will void the notice and require that a second one be served.

Lockhart said that the notices issued before October 20 will not be invalidated if grounds were not stated but that the landlord will be required to given written explanations of grounds for vacating to both tenant and rent office at least 10 days before the 30-days expires.

In no case, unless filed before October 20, may any eviction suit be started unless the written notices have been presented before the last 10 days on both tenant and rent office.

Store Manager's Memory Proves Trap for Suspect

BERKELEY, Oct. 24.—George E. Lee, 1028 Leo Way, Oakland, is a man with a memory, as Arthur W. Eagleton, 45, Monterey Hotel, San Francisco, has occasion to regret today.

Lee, manager of a Western Auto Supply store at 2426 Shattuck Avenue, noticed Eagleton in the store yesterday and recognized him as the man who was suspected of stealing spark plugs from the San Leandro branch managed by Lee earlier this year.

Lee watched Eagleton purchase an 11-cent tube of rubber cement and then leisurely leave the store with several bass fishing reels and a couple of chamois skins tucked under his coat.

Grabbed at the door, Eagleton was turned over to the police and booked for investigation. He has a criminal record dating back to 1932 and has been involved in a number of petty theft cases, including several narcotic holdups, police said.
