2nd Birthday

CHICAGO (AP) — Rodney Dermodie celebrated his second birthday today with ice cream, cake and a party, just as any other youngster would.

Hope was given by doctors said, that he will be able to lead a normal life.

The only thing unusual about the party was that Rodney is a patient at the neuropsychiatric institute of the University of Illinois, where he has been since surgeons separated him from his less fortunate Siamese twin.

Otherwise, it was a typical birthday for a two-year-old. The guests were his playmates, the other children in his ward.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Brodie, came up from their farm at Ferris, Ill., and brought their four other children along.

The party was planned by nurses and occupational therapists.

"But it's nothing special," a hospital spokesman said. "It's the same kind of party we have for other children on the ward. We try not to do any more for one than we do for another."

Rodney was born joined at the top of his skull to his brother, Roger.

After exhaustive tests and a series of preliminary operations, surgeons last Dec. 17 separated the twins in an historic operation that took 12 hours and 40 minutes.

Roger, the weaker of the twins, subsequently died. But Rodney has grown stronger and today he scooted around the ward on a four-wheel walker.

Doctors said Rodney, now weighs 24½ pounds and is 33 inches tall. The average weight for a two-year-old boy is about 30 pounds, but a spokesman said the Rodney's lack of weight is not hard to understand, considering of planning to kill the 62-year-old that he has undergone a total of 20 operations.

Still more surgery will be required to give Rodney a covering for his brain, at present protected by grafted skin.

"He still has a long way to go," the spokesman said, "but the hope is growing that he will be able to lead an effective life."

Five Men Missing In Alaskan Wilds

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP) — Four hunters and a scientist were missing three widely separated areas of the Alaska wilds today.

Search was underway in the rugged Talkeetna mountains, 50 miles north of here, for moose hunters John Leinhardt, 24, and Dave Alguire, 48, both of Anchorage, missing since Saturday.

And ground parties and two planes were looking for Ben Hunger, Anchorage, and Pat Munson, Cordova, who disappeared Friday on a duck hunting expedition in the Copper river flats area east of here.

But the search for Dr. Werner Jubie, Johns Hopkins University professor, who vanished in the Valley of Ten Thousand Smokes, was suspended.

A bloodhound used in seeking Jobie was taken to Talkeetna to track the moose hunters.

Parties looking for Hunger and Munson feared the duck hunters were drowned. Munson's 30-foot power boat was found abandoned and drifting near the Kay Islands and later the boat's skiff was found swamped and aground on Hunchenbrook island. The hunters' guns and gear were found in the larger boat.

The weather has been rough in the Copper River flats area in recent days.

Jubie, of Ironsides, Kid., was presumed to have drowned in Knife Creek. His pack was found on the bank of a chasm which the stream pushes through. He had been missing since Sept. 4 when he set out alone to explore the Katmai National monument area.

Light planes will be used to search for Jubie's body when flood waters in the creek go down.

State to Ask Death Penalty In LA Murder

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The prosecution resumes its demands today for the lives of two men and a woman accused of murdering Mrs. Mabel Monahan in her Burbank home last March 9.

Assistant District Attorney J. Miller Leavy began the state's final arguments yesterday, stating he expected to demonstrate that Mrs. Barbara Graham, Jack Santo and Emmett Perkins were guilty of first degree murder.

Leavy said he would ask for the death penalty.

Leavy accused the defendants of planning to kill the 62-year-old widow during a search of her home for money they believed had been hidden there by Las Vegas, Nev., gambler L. B. (Pop) Scheiner.

"These people stood to live and kill to steal," Leavy said, adding, "dead bodies don't talk."

They never intended that she (Mrs. Monahan) should live to tell what happened," Leavy said, and Sen. Herbert Lehman, hopefully.

Leavy singled out Mrs. Graham as the first person to enter the Monahan home on the murder night.

Reviewing the testimony of the state's witness John Trae, who claimed he accompanied the gang to the Monahan home, he accused the 30-year-old blonde beauty mother of slaying the victim in the face with a pistol.

'New Deal' Faction Wins New York City Primary Vote In Lead

NEW YORK (AP) — Robert F. Wagner, Jr., won the Democratic nomination for mayor of New York today in a landslide victory for the "new deal" faction of his party.

Mayor Vincent R. Impellitteri, seeking Democratic endorsement for the job he has held since 1950, conceded early today he had lost the election.

Unofficial returns from 4386 of the sprawling city's 4392 election districts gave Wagner a lead of almost 170,000 votes over Impellitteri. The count stood at 350,000 for Wagner and 180,880 for the incumbent mayor.

The total vote — slightly over 345,000 — reflected the light interest in the primary among the city's more than 2,000,000 registered Democrats.

Wagner, Manhattan Borough president and son of the late U.S. senator, had campaigned with the support of such liberal Democrats as Rep. Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., and Sen. Herbert Lehman, hopeful of stirring a return by Reform Democrats to active leadership in New York party affairs. He might have become state party chairman in case of victory.

The outcome of the lusty contested primary fight was believed to have stymied a return by Carmine G. DeSapio to the leadership of Tammany Hall, but the speech indicated they will include many Communists and former members of the core of the individuals accused of activities against the state will claimed throughout the capital.

Salem said in his speech that some of the individuals accused of activities against the state will claimed throughout the capital.

A state of emergency was proclaimed here today. Salem's speech is referred to a revolutionary tribunal.

Salem said in his speech that Salem clearly was aiming could mean any power other than
