9/14/79 FYI: J. Ortiz
F. Provorny
D. Wood
J. Weber

FROM: Glynn Young

PCB
Idaho

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 13, 1979

ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH

PCB In Feed Polluted Eggs

FRANKLIN, Idaho (UPI) — The U.S. Food and Drug Administration has confirmed that PCB, a cancer-causing chemical that contaminated 350,000 hens and millions of eggs at an Idaho poultry farm, was present in the chicken feed. The agency, which ordered the destruction of the hens, also said Wednesday that it was estimated 18 million eggs contaminated by PCB had been sold throughout the West.