Is it your understanding, throughout the years that you were executive director that the FMSI membership constituted a majority of the friction materials industry.

MR. FRIESTEDT: Objection to form.

A I believe so. But I have no -- nothing to back it up.

Q Was there after point while you were at the FMSI when the FMSI did not reflect a substantial part of the friction product industry?

MR. FRIESTEDT: Objection to form.

A I'm having difficulty. What is this universe, this friction material, is all -- is it the world, the stuff that comes in from Europe or Mexico or the far east and all that.

Q However you would break it down.

MR. FRIESTEDT: Objection to form.

A Of the American manufacturers, this probably consisted of a majority of them.

Q On an international level, would the FMSI membership comprise a substantial part of the international friction --

A I have no --
