Q You looked at about 100 of those articles; is that correct?

A Possibly. I probably looked at the titles of probably a lot more, but as I say, they are mostly repetitive.

Q Right, so when they became repetitive, I believe you have testified in the past that you just read the articles and you read the summaries and you got the gist of what the articles were, because they were repeating prior things that were already in the literature; isn't that correct?

A That is correct.

Q And you said you could get the gist of the article from the summary itself?

A Yes. That is what summaries are, summarize what the article says.

Q Have you ever heard of something called the Industrial Hygiene Foundation?

A I have heard of it, yes.

Q Have you ever seen Industrial Hygiene Digests that are summaries of medical articles that