Gentlemen:

As you are probably aware, recently there has been increased F.D.A. activity on indirect additives in foods and food packaging materials. The most recent being the finding of PCB's, Polychlorinated Biphenyls, in paper containers and the subsequent recall of the food packaged in these containers.

In light of the above, we must ask each and every one of our suppliers, both raw ingredient and packaging materials, to instruct their technical departments to outline in detail what controls they use in the detection and elimination of PCB's in materials furnished to Hollywood Brands.

We must also demand that all paper materials used to package raw ingredients and packaging materials that come in contact with our finished product be made of virgin materials, no recycled material allowed.

Best regards,

Frank Roux
