CONTAMINATION TRIAL IN BAD AXE

NEWSCASTER: A controversial trial over PCB contamination is continuing this afternoon in Bad Axe. A farmer--a former state official testified a Huron County farmer and his wife both have abnormally high levels of PCB in their bodies. The farm family is suing the MONSANTO COMPANY and two Michigan silo companies for $4.3 million in damages. The farmer says his wife and his health were fine until they began using silos coated with PCB sealants.
