Ventura Speaks

Dear Folks:

A man has just told me of a good way for people who like to travel on trains but who can't get reservations to go any place to remind themselves of the good old days. It's to go out to Merle's Side Car on Ventura Boulevard near Five Points, where an old railroad car has been completely remodeled to resemble a club and dining car of about the 1890 era. It even has the old, original coal oil lamps hanging from the ceiling. The only thing missing is the clickety-click of the wheels on the rails and the spilling over of the soup as the train rounds a bend. But Owner Merle Afflerbaugh will probably think up some mechanical device right away to provide these sensations for his patrons.

One end of the car is taken up by what Mr. Afflerbaugh calls his "Toddy Room" where I understand those who desire refreshments may obtain them. The other end is given over to dining car booths where delectable charcoal broiled steaks are served from the real charcoal broiler which occupies a niche in the center of the car. All the decorations and fixtures are authentically true to the Gay 90's period in a modern 1945 sort of way. They tell me it's a very interesting place to dine and one serving excellent dinners and if any man ever makes a date with me I hope he'll take me to see it some time.

Ventura's War Bond drive seems to be getting off to a slow start but undoubtedly it will gather speed as time goes on. The Delta Theta Tau sorority girls are doing a fine job over in the display window at Rogers Furniture Store where Ida Roff kindly let them have their bond selling "office." They have for sale there for bonds, of course, all the trophies made in the South Pacific by Barney Fish's Seabee outfit from captured Jap materials and they're also handling in mighty fine manner the tickets for the big "True Consequences" show here in the junior college auditorium on June 6. Yesterday I happened by and saw Ed Daugherty and Wanda Lee two of the members, "manning" the booth and they had lots of people who had bonds bonds were coming in to their tickets. That's really going to be a bang-up show and I think the whole house will be sold out in no time at all. Ralph Edwards, the originator of this popular radio show will be here and will put on the same type of entertainment you hear on the radio every Tuesday night. A minimum of a $50 bond is required for one ticket and not more than 5 tickets will be given to any one purchaser so that a large number of local people will have the opportunity to be present. Exchange slips are given by issuing agencies when bonds are purchased and these can be exchanged at Rogers window for tickets good for admission.

Love,

Mairzy
