Lorraine,

We do not support an article in the API Connection.

With regard to the amendment, ExxonMobil's cover letter should be addressed to Mr. S. D. Pryor, President, ExxonMobil Refining & Supply, and mailed to Brian Doll.

Regards,
Brian

To All -

Please advise if the consortium wants to write an article for the July 10 edition of the API Connection. If so, who will author the first draft? Lynn? Lorraine? other?

On the amendment front - we are hoping that Brenda & Red will be in today so we can process for signature. Can you please verify that the following is how you want the communications to go out?

BP - cover ltr addressed and sent to Michael Brien (DC). An invoice for the full commitment will accompany the amendment.

Chevron Corp - address cover letter to Mr Jeet Bindra and mail to Russ White

ConocoPhillips - address cover letter and send amendment to Mike Johnston

ExxonMobil - address cover letter to Mr. J.S Simon and mail to Brian Doll

Shell - address cover letter and mail to Patsy Clegg

If OC members do not want the cover letter to be addressed to you, I can always put in the more generic salutation of "Dear Benzene Health Research Consortium Member"

Finally, per Brian's recommendation, I will put in a due date of June 30, with an added note on the need to amend researchers' contracts by mid-July in order to not interrupt progress on the program.

Thanks,

I would not support having the article in the API newsletter. The article definitely creates ownership of the study as API. I would suggest that we consider the opportunity to do an article in the API newsletter, but that the consortium author it.

Lorraine, if there is any push-back from API on what appears to be a growing consensus on not publishing this article, please let us know, and the consortium membership can discuss with the appropriate folks at API.

Regards,
Patsy
