Grand Jury Indicts 30 Shirt Strikers

MADISONVILLE, Ky., May 5.—(AP)—Thirty persons, most of them women, were indicted today on charges arising from a strike at a shirt factory here.

The Hopkins County Grand Jury returned the indictments. There was no sign of a settlement in the six-day work stoppage at the S. J. Campbell Co., Inc., factory.

A union spokesman announced picketing would continue. The indicted women, described as mostly production workers, and three union representatives were accused of banding and conferating to intimidate, alarm or injure other employees.
