Javits Blasts 'Shocking' Shipment Plan

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., said today the "shocking and shameful" shipping of unemployed Negroes from New Orleans to the North would only build up public opposition to an impending Senate filibuster against its latest civil rights bill.

Javits told the Senate the "heartless display of theatricalism" by New Orleans segregation leaders would increase the chances of cutting off the filibuster through a cloture petition and bring a vote on legislation to abolish literacy tests as a federal voting requirement.

LITERACY TEST

The New Yorker spoke briefly as Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, Mont., prepared to bring the literacy test issue before the Senate by moving to substitute it for a minor personal relief bill. The administration-backed civil rights proposal would make a sixth grade education proof of literacy for any federal election.

Mansfield's move would set the stage for a filibuster that could tie up the Senate for 10 days or two weeks or possibly longer. The Democratic leader indicated he would not seek to curb the debate through a cloture move for several days.

Sen. Lister Hill, D-Ala., leadoff speaker for the Southern forces charged in his prepared speech that the proposal to abolish state literacy tests was unconstitutional and would open the way for lawmaking by the courts.

Duty Orders In Algeria

ALGIERS, Algeria (UPI)—European extremists today defied security forces hunting them down with orders to shoot and kill by staging a series of terrorist attacks in Algiers, including the machinegunning of Moslem fish market workers.

Police said four Moslems were killed in the machinegun attack in the Clauzel market place in the heart of Algiers. Police blamed killers of the Secret Army Organization (OAS) for the attack and for the slaying of two other Moslems this morning.

BLAST OFFICES

A three-man squad of OAS commandos also blew up a social insurance office in downtown Algiers. Police said the three men entered the building, ordered its European staff out at gunpoint and then blasted the building with a 12-pound charge of explosive.

The attack came even as Gen. Michel Fourquet formally took over as supreme commander of French security forces in Algeria with the primary objective of wiping out the terrorist European underground army.

Witnesses said the four Moslems slain in the Algiers market place had just opened their fish stall when the OAS killers struck. They said three men carrying machine guns leaped from a car and swept the stall with gunfire. The four Moslems were killed instantly. The killers escaped.

About 200 European Algerians called from the French naval base of Mers el Kebir, near Oran, for France last night.

"It is the exodus before the battle," one aged man told newsmen. He refused to identify himself for fear that the OAS, which regards Europeans who want to leave Algeria as traitors, would take reprisals against his family.

Fourquet, tough 47-year old air force officer, is expected to concentrate his assault on the OAS campaign first in Oran, the western port city which has been the stronghold of the outlawed terrorist group.

Troops combed off two areas of Oran this morning and took over the first two floors of two of the city's tallest apartment houses, ordering the residents out. There was no immediate explanation for the action.

Soviet Accuses U.S. of Plot On Red Missiles

GENEVA, (UPI) — The Soviet Union today accused the United States of plotting to eliminate Russian long-range missiles while keeping a ring of American outclear bases drawn tight around the Communist world.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerin Zorin also alleged the United States hopes to control a United NATO force now in which would be armed with nuclear weapons and could "dictate its will" on other states.

Zorin made his first comment on the detailed American disarmament plan submitted last week, saying he was now prepared to consider his own draft treaty and the American plan "paragraph by paragraph, chapter by chapter."

He made no reference to his warning last week that renewal of American nuclear testing in the atmosphere, scheduled for late this week, may prompt the Russians to walk out of the conference. Some observers thought the meaning of the two statements might be that Zorin will remain in the general disarmament conference of 17 nations but refuse to participate in any subcommittee on nuclear testing.

Store Burglary Nets $900 Loot

The Great West Surplus Store, 612 S. Oxnard Blvd., Oxnard, was burglarized of $900 in merchandise including clothing, camping gear and radios, according to an Oxnard police report.

Police said the store was broken into last night by burglars who knocked out a window in the rear of the store to gain entry.

Guido Takes Province Rule

BUENOS AIRES (UPI)—President Jose M. Guido issued decrees today voiding all provincial and municipal elections since December 1961 and establishing federal control over Argentina's 23 provinces.

The decrees annulling election results did not, however, affect the March 18 federal elections in which supporters of ousted dictator Juan D. Peron won 45 congressional seats.

Guido said annulment of those results was a prerogative of the federal Congress and he called on that body to take the necessary action "urgently" to preserve law and order.

The federal seizure of power in the provinces effectively voided Peronist elections to the governorship in 11 of them. The annulment of provincial and municipal election results vacated literally thousands of jobs throughout Argentina. Guido said new elections would be held soon to fill these posts.

Whether Congress would act on Guido's plea for its quick annulment of the March 18 federal election results was problematical. Congress has been in session for the past week but a majority bloc in the lower house has stubbornly blocked any action on legislation even to legalize the Guido regime.

In the preamble to his decree annulment provincial and municipal election results of the past five months, Guido said it was the executive opinion that the Congress should also annul the March 18 election results.

The Peronists earlier had threatened civil war if they were denied the election gains they won in the March 18 balloting.

The decree represented a complete government surrender to military demands for immediate action to halt growing Peronist strength.

Earlier, Guido announced elections for a president and vice president would be held within 90 days.

Military commanders in the field moved promptly to enforce the government's takeover command.

First provinces to be taken over by the military included San Luis, Santa Fe and Corrientes.

In the latter province, deposed Gov. Piragine Nivelro termed the federal seizure of power "an inconceivable act of military abuse."

Five of the 23 provinces affected had previously been "intervened" by the government of ousted President Arturo Frondizi in a desperate bid to ease armed forces pressure.

Living Costs Creep Up to Monthly Record

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Living costs crept to the second consecutive monthly record in March and another increase is likely for April, the government reported today.

The Labor Department blamed the March rise of 0.2 per cent chiefly on markups in the cost of medical care and spring clothing styles for women and girls.

The rise amounts to two cents per $10 of spending for goods and services. It lifted the consumer price index to a new high of 105. This means it took $10.50 to buy goods and services which would have cost $10 in 1957-59.

TO GET BOOSTS

The report meant that about 67,000 workers whose wages are linked to the index would get payments. The department said 30,000 Douglas Aircraft employes would get two cents an hour boosts. Some 37,000 workers in chemicals and manufacturing firms and Milwaukee transit workers will get increases of one cent an hour.

Arnold Chase, the department's price chief, said the 0.1 per cent rise in the index since March, 1961, "would be within the range of reasonable price stability."

He said the fact that the wholesale price index in March was a shade lower than in March, 1961, shows that there are no general inflationary forces at work in the economy.

FURTHER RISES

Chase anticipated further rises in the cost of services, especially medical care and rent, and seasonal markups for fresh fruits and vegetables. He said this means another small increase in the index in April was likely.

The index, which measures changes in prices of more than 300 goods and services bought by middle-income city families, rose 0.3 per cent in February after six months of virtual stability.

In California the department announced that the cost of living rose to an all-time high in Los Angeles in March, paced by higher prices for hospitalization, food and used cars.

Max D. Kossoris, western regional director of the department's Bureau of Labor Statistics, said the price hike in the three-month period brought the all-items index to 106.1, with the average for the years 1957-59 as a base of 100.

LIZ TAYLOR WALKS OUT ON BURTON

ROME (UPI) — Elizabeth Taylor walked out angrily on Richard Burton last night and returned to Rome to end a weekend of idyll at an isolated seaside bungalow, friends of the couple said today.

They said the couple, who had been staying at a pink bungalow near the resort of Porto Santa Stefano since Saturday, had argued bitterly.

Miss Taylor, who has the week off from work on the film "Cleopatra," left Porto Santo Stefano late last night and drove 100 miles to her Roman villa. Burton stayed on until this morning, when he, too packed up and came back to Rome.

The 30-year-old actress originally had been scheduled to work today. At one point a studio spokesman said she actually was on the set. He said later the schedule had been changed because of good weather and a number of outdoor scenes that do not involve the stars were being shot.

BAN DEMAND

TEL AVIV, Israel (UPI)—An international ban on nuclear tests was demanded in a resolution adopted by the 20th Hebrew Zionists' Congress which ended last night.

Employment in County Achieves New High

Employment in Ventura County jumped to a record high of 73,800 in March, with a monthly gain of 3,875 persons employed.

The county's unemployment rate dropped to 6.8 per cent, a full point underneath last March's mark, according to the State Department of Employment.

The working force in all production increased for the second straight month led by oil well service forces, boosting the total to 4,375 for March, up an even 100 persons from the January low.

The number of workers in hard goods factory work made one of the largest monthly gains to date as it rose by 225 over the February total of 3,425. New jobs were about evenly divided between electronics components and missiles.

Employment in seasonal food processing is still suffering from the effects of the heavy February rains with the March job levels at 925, or 175 below a year ago.

Rains produced an entirely opposite effect on the need for farm labor as field hands were needed to supply ripening crops in the shops and canneries.

The current county agricultural employment figure of 14,800 is the highest for any winter month in the past three years.

The jobless count dropped to 5,400, down 1,800 from the record high of February.

"With the unemployment rate under 7 per cent for two of the first three months of 1962, a measurable degree of improvement over 1961 may be expected during the coming year," the department said.

Ojai Denies Democrat Charge

A scathing letter from the Ojai City Council to the Ventura County Democrat, a party newsletter, was in the mail today demanding a retraction for a story charging the council took sides with a Republican in the recent election.

The committee will not comment.

The story said the council acted illegally in voting as a public body to support "anyone."

Ojai Mayor Ralph Bennett in the council letter said the charges were untrue, slanderous and without basis in fact.

He demanded an immediate retraction.

Overbooking Brings Suit

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Michael N. Khouris, San Francisco attorney who claims he couldn't get on an overbooked airline flight with a confirmed reservation, filed a $15,085 damage suit yesterday against Trans World Airlines.

Khouris said TWA agents had laughed at him and declared that nobody, including Khouris, could do anything about overselling airline space.

Khouris asked a federal court injunction banning overbooking. He asked that the court order also bar the practice of giving first class passengers tourist seats in overbooked flights.

Khouris said his Oct. 11 reservation for a Las Vegas flight was confirmed by telephone Feb. 20 and he was told to report 30 minutes before departure.
