SF Examiner Sec. Fin. F Oct. 2, 1959

The second question concerns the future of Dr. Thomas E. Albers, hospital superintendent the last 18 years. If Sox can produce evidence to support a move to oust Albers from his civil service position, it could change the entire plan.

Duckel, indirectly, has shown plenty of dissatisfaction with Albers' performance and has not hesitated in the past to fire a civil service employe where poor performance can be proved.

The whole purpose of setting up an institutions administrator, if fact, would be to exercise better control of the hospital operation. Duckel and Sox have repeatedly praised the work of Louis Moran, who runs Laguna Honda Home.

Sox was supposed to talk with Duckel yesterday. But both officials became involved in other city affairs.

TURNDOWN ON AID

Sox went to Los Angeles Wednesday at Duckel's insistence to ask the State Health Department for a $160,000 share of State and Federal aid to health centers.

Both officials deplored past State practice of apportioning the aid only to impoverished counties which, as Duckel noted "refused to help themselves."

San Francisco had been given last priority for any of the $14,000,000 in so-called Hall-Burton funds and Sox reported that he was unable to persuade the State to change that rating yesterday.

Sox appealed on grounds that San Francisco has already established six neighborhood health centers, has $80,000 available to throw in with the aid funds to construct two new centers.

LEFTOVERS FOR S. F.

But the best he could get from State health officials was assurance that if the impoverished counties fail to put up one-third in matching funds San Francisco might inherit leftover aid funds.

The impoverished counties have 120 days to appropriate the matching funds. Thus, it would be January at best before San Francisco could receive anything, Sox said.

The funds are granted on the basis of one-third Federal aid, one-third State aid and one-third local contribution. Sox wants to set up a West Side health center and a new facility in Noe Valley.

Millionaire's Death Probed

SANTA ANA, Oct. 1.—(AP)—Orange County District Attorney Ken Williams said today he will seek a court order to exhume the body of millionaire Myford Irvine found dead of gunshot wounds in his home Jan. 11.

The death was listed as a suicide but members of the family have asked an investigation.

The district attorney said: So far I have found nothing to change the suicide theory. There is possibly a 5 per cent chance that it was something
