As discussed over the telephone I have reviewed the proposed wording for your manuscript and I suggest that it be modified slightly to read as follows:

"Some of the higher chlorinated isomers of polychlorinated biphenyl (PCB) were found to be more resistant to natural degradation influences resulting in accumulation in the environment. Concentrations were observed in different trophic levels of the food chain with adverse effects noted in some species of wildlife, prompting the principal domestic manufacturer of PCB's to discontinue sales to plasticizer applications."

If this wording is not appropriate for your needs, let's try again.
