DEER PARK
Community Advisory Council

INTRODUCTION

In the fall of 1989, companies in the Deer Park industrial district began forming a committee of people from both industry and the community. A group of local citizens, with varied backgrounds, met with industry representatives to assist in the effort to organize the Deer Park Community Advisory Council (DPCAC). The council held its first meeting on March 28, 1990.

The DPCAC meets monthly for the purpose of further developing a mutual understanding of industry as it relates to Deer Park. The council serves as a resource to industry and the community on topics that include health, occupational, environmental and economic issues, and other issues of community interest.

INFORMATION SHARING

As the DPCAC looks to the future, it will continue to identify opportunities to share information with the community and bring community concerns to the DPCAC table.

DPCAC members are finding the council to be a forum for an open and mutual exchange of ideas and concerns...which is why they chose the words communication, education and understanding for the logo.

PREVIOUS TOPICS

- Community Health Effects
- The CMA Responsible Care Program
- Pipelines in Deer Park
- Hazardous Waste Management; Tour of Rollins Incinerator
- Economic Forecast for Deer Park
- Groundwater Quality in Deer Park

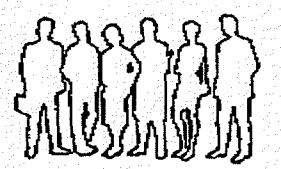
PAST PRESENTERS

- Dr. Patricia Buffler, then of UT School of Public Health
- Jerry Neel from Rollins Environmental Services
- Dr. Bob Hodgin, UHCL (Economist)
- Roxie Voran, Corrigan Consulting

FUTURE TOPICS

- ✓ Report on Toxic Releases
- ✓ Contractor Safety
- ✓ Community's Preparedness
- ✓ Solicit Community for future meeting topics

You have now read our DPCAC brochure and know something about us. You may have concerns about Deer Park industry which you want the council to discuss and provide feedback to you. Within this brochure, our names and numbers are listed. Give us a call, we want to hear from you.



DSW 137563
STLCOPCB4037520