FOR GIRLS AND BOYS.

All boys and girls between the ages of 8 and 17 may enter the contest. Gas models, rubber model and scale models are all eligible to compete for prizes.

Sponsors of the model contest are the Civilian Aids, the Junior Chamber of Commerce, the WPA recreation department and the Mercury Herald.

Heading the cast of the Hollywood air show is Tex Rankin, famous stunt pilot and holder of the international aerobatic championship.

SUPPORTING CAST.

Performing with him will be Faye Gilk, who will do a delayed parachute jump from 10,000 feet; Dorothy Barden, who uses a break away ramp, releasing one parachute, drops 500 feet before opening the second chute; "Sheriff" Stark, who does a spot landing parachute jump; Chick Young, expert on how not to fly a plane; Bob Wilson and his famous controlled plane.

The big show starts at 2:30 and lasts three hours. Admission price is nominal. There is no charge for parking on the field.

Giving a last minute checkup to their rubber model airplane are Eli, 11, and Bill, 14, Carle are all set to enter the ship, a "Pacific Ace" mod model airplane contest at the San Jose airport road at 10 o'clock this morning. All they're about is who's going to fly it.—Mercury Herald
